Soft Skills

- · Although I had not decided to land a job, in these 4 years I have had several good experiences communicating with people while I was working as a developer.
- As I have an ESTJ personality it is so important for me to do the job soon and in the best way I can and by that, I consider myself a responsible person.
- · Beside Front-end development as I'm so passioned about learning new technologies and facing new challenges, I spent these 4 years learning Back-end Development and DevOps by studying online with YouTube and documentation.
- The reason I'm applying for this job is to gain experience and develop myself.
